Proposed standards of purity for treated waters to be emitted into the channel by upstream industries, was also considered by the board.

ing, personnel and factory supervisors; a control laboratory, occupying 4,000 square feet, with the latest testing equipment for quality control of raw materials and for rigid product control during manufacture! and a cafeteria and locker rooms.

The manufacturing area has a clear ceiling height of 30 feet, to accommodate massive machinery. A 50,000 square foot mezzanine floor in this area is constructed of reinforced concrete designed for a 250 pound per square foot live load.

Exterior design features functional exposed structural steel columns. Construction throughout is structural steel frame, and reinforced brick enclosing walls designed to resist seismic loads.

Both the separate office building and offices in factory buildings are air-conditioned. Sales and order departments are housed in the office building. All floors and walls are decorated with Kentile rubber, vinyl asbestos, solid vinyl and asphalt tile. Window frames are aluminum and stainless steel. Both buildings feature Rotterdam oversized Norman face brick, a California product.

Storage facilities consist of 13 resin tanks having a capacity of 12,000 gallons each, four plasticizer tanks of similar capacity, and three plasticizer tanks of 2,500 gallon capacity and one 2,500 gallon capacity oil tank—a total of 214,000 gallons of material.

The rail delivery problem was solved by the designing of double-walled tank cars having a capacity of 18,600 gallons each. The largest insulated cars ever built, each measures 60 feet in length and weighs 250,000 pounds loaded.

The cars have a built-in oil reservoir in the outer shell. When a car is placed in the unloading position, this oil reservoir is connected to the main oil heating unit of the tank system, and high-temperature oil is recirculated through the car passageways.

After a heating period of from 24 to 36 hours, the resin temperature is raised from approximately 225 degrees to well over 350 degrees, at which mark it can be pumped. The entire contents of a car are transferred to a storage tank in less than two hours. The plant has six such unloading pumping stations. Kentile's special tank cars are identified with the familiar trade mark, which appears in full view of an estimated 137,000 persons each time a car crosses the continent.

Fred Benson, South Bay, Assistant District Attorney, is the instructor. Registration is slated with the instructor Wednesday evening.

Camels Selects Torrance Press

The Torrance Press has been selected for a series of advertisements for Camel Cigarettes by the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company.

In placing the series, officials for the Reynolds Company underlined their belief in the effectiveness of semi-weekly newspapers and the growing importance of the entire area.

The first advertisement will appear next Thursday, Oct. 20, according to Howard Gray, Reynolds' advertising manager.

Billy Graham Film to Have Showing

"SHADOW OF THE BOOMERANG" most recent of the Billy Graham dramatic films will be shown at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 18, at the Long Beach Municipal Auditorium.

The current release, which stars American performers Georgia Lee and Dick Jones heading an all-Australian supporting cast, was filmed during the Graham Team's historic Australia Crusade. Some of the largest crowds in Mr. Graham's entire ministry gathered to hear him speak in Melbourne and Sydney.

"SHADOW OF THE BOOMERANG" will be shown free of charge under the auspices of Greater Los Angeles Youth for Christ, according to Dr. Roy McKeown.
